

Riddles No. 76 - No. 100

|     | Riddle   | Answer   |
|-----|--|--|
| 76  | I can change colors and I am part of the lizard family. I use my long tongue and catch insects to eat. Who am I?   | Chameleon  |
| 77  | I carry my baby in a pocket around my stomach. I am good at jumping. Who am I?   | Kangaroo   |
| 78  | This little creature has a spiral shell and it hides its body into the shell. It lives on land. It licks drops of water from grass and trees and eats leaves. What is it?  | Snail  |
| 79  | On this day, you put up Koinobori (carp-shaped wind socks) and pray for children's happiness. What do you call this special day?   | "Kodomo no hi/Tango no Sekku" (Japanese national holiday meaning "Children's day") |
| 80  | When some people are ill or injured, they stay in the hospital to get better. What do you call this?   | Going to the hospital  |
| 81  | A new pupil joins a school to learn. What do you call this?  | Entry into school  |
| 82  | An elementary school pupil carries textbooks and other things for school in a bag. He/She carries the bag on his/her back. What is it?   | "Randoseru" (Small backpack that Japanese children use as a school bag)            |
| 83  | What device do you use to take a photograph?   | Camera   |
| 84  | This is a strong animal with a mane. It can run fast and has a long face, neck, and legs. What do you call this animal?  | Horse  |
| 85  | This vehicle is pulled by one or more horses. It carries people and things on road. What is it called?   | Horse wagon  |
| 86  | What furniture do you put back your shoes or sandals into?   | "Getabako" (Japanese shoe cupboard)  |
| 87  | This white liquid is nutritious and produced by cows. What do you call it?   | Milk   |
| 88  | What is the thickest finger/toe on your hand/foot?   | Thumb/Big toe  |
| 89  | These are parts of a human/animal body. Men/animals use them to support themselves, stand up, walk, and run. What are they?  | Feet/Legs  |
| 90  | You see this plant in springs at riversides or fields and it is shaped like a brush. You can also eat it. What is it?  | "Tsukushi" (Horsetail)   |
| 91  | You put a letter into this paper bag when you have to send it. What is it?   | Envelope   |
| 92  | On an envelope/card, you attach a tiny paper. You pay money to get it. What is it called?  | Stamp  |
| 93  | You carry your food in a container so you can eat it when you are out. What do you call this?  | Packed lunch   |
| 94  | This fruit is curved in shape and grows in a bunch. It is yellow and sweet and grows in hot countries. What is it?   | Banana   |
| 95  | You mix this material with water and use it to color a picture by brush. What is it?   | Watercolor paints  |
| 96  | You knead rice flour, form small balls and steam, or boil them. Then, you mix them with Azuki beans (red sweet beans) or Kinako (sweet soybean flour). You serve these as an offering to the moon at the Otsukimi party (Japanese festival honoring the autumn moon). What do you call these sweets? | "Dango" (Sweet Japanese rice dumplings)  |
| 97  | It is made of rice and formed into triangles or rounds. It is called a "rice ball" in English. What is it?   | "Onigiri/Omusubi"  |
| 98  | You add a U-shaped needle through the sheets of paper to join them. What do you call the device that does this?  | Stapler  |
| 99  | What dolls do you decorate for Hina-matsuri (Doll's festival where people pray for young girl's growth and happiness)?   | "Hina-ningyo" (A set of Japanese ornamental dolls)                                 |
| 100 | What do you call the drink squeezed from a fruit or vegetable?   | Juice  |